NUTRITIONAL AND DIETARY CONSULTANTS

If Nutritional and Dietary Consultants are ever to achieve the professional recognition they so justly deserve, they must consolidate their numbers through a strong, professional, organized association.

The American Association of Nutritional Consultants is your professional association combating public ignorance and adverse legislation. AANC is working tirelessly to enhance the prestige and professional status of all its members.

WE INVITE YOU TO JOIN

When you display the prestigious AANC Membership Certificate on your wall, you make clients, patients, and professional colleagues aware of your commitment to the high standards of professional competence in nutritional counseling, demonstrating your dedication to the cause of good health through nutrition.

As well as the prestige of belonging to a nationally recognized organization, there are many direct, personal and financial benefits to be enjoyed as a member of AANC.

AANC HAS THREE TYPES OF MEMBERSHIP

Association Membership	$70.00 annually
Professional Membership	$70.00 annually
Diplomate Membership	$70.00 annually

International Members: Please include an additional $10.00 annually.

ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP
Association Membership with AANC is open to all individuals who seek to support AANC and its work by aligning themselves with a prestigious and nationally recognized organization. There are no prerequisites for this membership, as it is designed to allow individuals who are concerned with health freedom to support AANC grassroots effort in the legislative arena.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIP
The AANC Professional Membership is designed for the individual who is currently a practicing nutritional and dietary professional and who wish to receive the prestigious designation of Certified Nutritional Consultant (C.N.C.) through completion of the C.N.C. examination provided by AANC. Professional Membership contributions are tax deductible.

DIPLOMATE MEMBERSHIP
The AANC Diplomate Membership is designed for the individual who has already been awarded the C.N.C. designation through AANC or Trinity School of Natural Health, is currently practicing as a nutritional and dietary professional, and who regularly participates in various forms of continuing education pertaining to his/her profession.

CERTIFICATION PROGRAM
Certified Nutritional Consultant (CNC)

INTRODUCTION

The Certification Program for nutritional consultants is maintained as a service to Professional Members of AANC. Successful candidates are authorized to carry the initials C.N.C. after their names and are issued a special second certificate (in addition to their Membership Certificate) attesting to the fact they have met all of the certification requirements as determined by the Commission on Certification of AANC.

PURPOSE

The purpose of certification is to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the public by encouraging high standards and professional competence of persons practicing in the profession of nutritional counseling. It provides a designation (C.N.C.) which serves to inform the practitioner's clients and potential clients that the practitioner has met professional requirements in addition to, and beyond, normal academic studies and/or professional experience.

ADMINISTRATION

The Certification Program, including establishment of standards and eligibility requirements, is administered by the Commission on Certification of AANC. The Certification Program and services of the Commission on Certification are supported entirely by examination fees and annual membership dues.

EXAMINATIONS

Candidates are required to complete a series of tests which will demonstrate proficiency in the areas of General and Applied Nutrition and in Practice Management.

EXAMINATION FEES

Payment of a one-time examination fee of $400.00 is required at the time of application. There are no annual maintenance fees. Expenses of administering the examinations, maintaining permanent records, grading papers, and preparation of the certification certificates are met entirely from the examination fee and annual membership dues.

MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

Candidates should keep in mind that AANC is not a school. For that reason, and to keep the candidate's fees as low as possible, no textbooks are provided.

All answers for AANC examinations must come from the corresponding textbook. Without the book, it may appear a question could be answered several ways based on your previous experience or other books. All examinations will be graded according to the answers found specifically in the corresponding book.

TEXTBOOKS AT DISCOUNT PRICES

Some of the books may be found in libraries, purchased from bookstores and some health food stores, or purchased at Member Discount Prices from Reagan's Bookstore (www.reagansbookstore.com).
